"Well, Mr. Jones," said neighbor Brown, "I'll start this very day for town, and get a pair of Boots for me, and also shoe my family."

So Bill you go and harness Doll, and straight to town will go, by god, and stop in front of SMITH'S STORE Where the Boots hang o'er the door.

Bill always does what father tells. He harnessed Doll and put on Belles, and in they piled young ones and all, Crack went the whip and off went Doll.

Doll had been living on high feed, And started at her fastest speed, And took Brown and his family straight, To Paw Paw at two-forty gait, Whoo, Whoo, old Doll, Bill cried out when They got to Main Street, Number Ten. And then they jumped in front the door, of Post Smith's Mammoth Store.

In they went with an awful swell, "Good morning, hope to find you well, Said Brown as he and his young drove Advanced to warm them at the stove.

My neighbor Jones brought me the news How cheap you sold your Boots and Shoes, So I resolved to come and buy Of you my winter's full supply.

To shoe the tribe, Smith began, Beginning first with the old man And then the young Brown's little feet. Were shod and fitted all complete.

The news soon spread the county round. That just the place at length was found Where men could save fifty per cent. On every dollar that they spent.
